GETTING THE RIGHT MIX

How one company harnessed the power of internal collaboration to build its global brand

read more...

Welcome to the July issue of Communication Directory,

To mark the release of our second magazine of the year, this month's feature article focuses on the theme of the issue: collaboration. Magazine author Dominic Redfearn explores the development of Diageo's global brand strategy, built on collaboration between the communication and marketing departments.

We're also already looking ahead to our next issue, which will feature a brand new interview format. We'll speak to Melissa Fleming of the UNHCR, the UN Refugee Agency, and we want YOU to ask the questions. Message us a question for Melissa along with your communications job title and company name via Facebook, Twitter or at info@communication-director.com (subject: "Melissa Fleming"), and we'll present your question to Melissa – and you might see yourself in print in Communication Director.

Collaborating on brand strategy across communications and marketing departments

Faster trends, greater social awareness, increased expectations of transparency and the role of business in society must be core to the execution of corporate brand and reputation strategy. But success depends on the ability to collaborate effectively and efficiently within the organisation. read more
